It's just corrugated paper, however it's valuable corrugated paper.?

All of my featured works in here are made with corrugated paper.

It's just paper, however it is a very special material and has many unique which were invented with man's wisdom. The material is natural and has a warm touch feeling to it. Even though it is strong it's also very light. Generally it is easy to process and retains a warm, buffer nature, good for sound insulation, while gentle to the skin. It's rich in recycling nature the material's cut section is very beautiful and also gentle for the earth. I have been giving my life to this material, to this corrugated paper for a long time. Over the past 30 years I have made toys, large-sized of implements, animals, and from objects of interior design to the art works.

I believe I am becoming a corrugated paper uncle now, my feeling is increasing that I wish to give a "Citizenship" to corrugated paper even though which we do not place any value on it. I am now holding events with "look" "play" "create" theme exhibitions entitled "the corrugated paper world" at the many public facilities and event spots.
